27th INTERNATIONAL NURSING PHILOSOPHY CONFERENCE

in association with the International Philosophy of Nursing Society (IPONS)

WELCOME MESSAGE

The Department of Nursing of the University of Ioannina, in association with the International Philosophy of Nursing Society (IPONS), is delighted to welcome you to the 27th International Nursing Philosophy Conference in the city of Ioannina in Greece on 11-13 September 2024.

The central theme of this year's conference is "Wondering about Nursing: the bedrock of nursing philosophy". Initially inspired by Socrates's quote that "wisdom begins with wonder," this year's conference aims to share specific and unique experiences, sentiments and responses that created sudden and qualitative awareness of the world of others and elicit questions, queries and a quest for signification and meaning-making in the context of nursing. Thus illuminating and making visible the uniqueness of nurses' experiences and actively demonstrating how nurses meaningfully, creatively, and intentionally order otherwise disparate events, aspects and particularities in their experiences to provide convincing explanations and qualitatively powerful meanings for themselves and the people, families, and communities they care for and with. Finally, the conference aims to be sufficiently interactive to allow for dialogical and dialectical examinations of presented experiences, meanings and explanations of unique cases to elaborate further, enrich with other experiences and potentially re-order the constitutive components of events or experiences, thereby transforming wonder into wondering and then into nursing knowledge(s) and nursing practices.

We look forward to exchanging and sharing the creative processes of constructing meaning(s) from nursing experiences and/or introducing meaning-making frameworks and communicating these insights in open and purposeful discussions and debates that persuasively argue points in a collegial and friendly atmosphere. This will form the bedrock of this year's conference storyline and, hopefully, demonstrate nursing philosophy in action.

The conference will take place at the Karolos Papoulias Conference Centre at the University of Ioannina (and hybrid via an online platform). The inaugural conference ceremony on 11th September will take place in the ancient theatre of Dodoni (<https://ancienttheatersofepirus.gr/en/theatre/theatro-dodonis/>) erected in the 5th century BC and cannot be transmitted online.

RED CROSS

I would like to express my cordial thanks to all who helped organise the 27th International Nursing Conference in Ioannina and made it a success.

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to IPONS and its Executive Committee, who entrusted the Department of Nursing at the University of Ioannina to host and organise the 27th International Nursing Conference.

I would also like to extend my sincere gratitude to the Rectoral Authorities of the University of Ioannina and specifically to Rector Prof. Anna Batistatou, who has always supported and nurtured the academic aspirations of the Department of Nursing. Also, I would like to acknowledge and recognise the assistance of the University Senate and the Deanship of the School of Health Sciences in approving and facilitating the processes for hosting the Conference.

I would like to express my most profound appreciation, and I will forever be deeply indebted to the Chair of the Conference Review Committee, Prof. Mary Gouva, for her valuable advice, relentless support and guidance in organising the Conference and for her many years of support and mentoring, for which I am forever grateful.

I would like to express my deepest appreciation and gratitude to the Chair of the Organizing Committee, Dr Nektaria Zagorianakou, for her invaluable insights into organising the Conference, for her unrelenting and creative energy in coordinating the conference activities from day one and for her profound belief that this Conference would be a success.

I am also extremely grateful to Prof. Miriam Bender and Dr Jess Dillard-Wright, my co-editor-in-chief and associate editor at the journal of Nursing Philosophy, who always provided constructive feedback, practical suggestions and patience with me in bouncing ideas off them.

I am also grateful to all members of the Department of Nursing, including the Teaching Faculty, Special Teaching Staff, Lab. Assistants and Administrative Staff, who volunteered their time, provided helpful advice and displayed kindness and patience during this busy period.

I would like to acknowledge all the Keynote Speakers for their willingness to share their accumulated knowledge and experiences at the Conference and recognise that their presence honoured and made the Conference more attractive.

I also wish to thank all the presenters, attendees and members of the Conference Committees, who shared their scholarly work, efforts and ideas at and for the Conference.

I am also grateful to Ms Lina Siamopoulou and her team from Conferre S.A, whose role was instrumental and invaluable in organising, publicising, and coordinating the Conference, always with kindness and patience.

Also, a special thanks goes to Mr Menelaos Sykovelis for the creative and beautiful photography exhibition and his artistic contributions to the Conference.

I would also like to thank all the sponsors, particularly the personnel and Heads of the Epirus Region, the Municipality of Arta, the Ancient Theater of Dodona, and the Red Cross, who supported the Conference.

Finally, I am particularly grateful to and appreciative of all the volunteers, students, musicians and University staff who creatively, tirelessly and with dedication contributed, within their role, to the success of the 27th International Nursing Conference.

Chair of the Conference
Prof. Stefanos Mantzoukas
